

Got a challenge.?

Learn to think like an artist

If your organization has a complex challenge, Grape Arte can help you solve it – free of charge. Read on to find out how your team can enter this competition!

We're looking for a company with a complex issue or social situation that needs attention. We'll facilitate an art-based workshop where your group will have an opportunity to gain insight, new perspectives, and shared understanding – and be well on the way to solving the problem. The competition: be the company that experiences the greatest change, as measured by self-evaluation and perceptions.

How Grape Arte works

We are creative facilitators, specializing in process planning as well as art – our team consists of visual artists, dancers and choreographers, theatre artists, and musicians. In addition to working intuitively, we also rely on our skills, knowledge and experience in business, pedagogy and facilitation. Grape Arte is part of Grape People, an international organization, giving us – and you – extra knowledge, experience, and support.

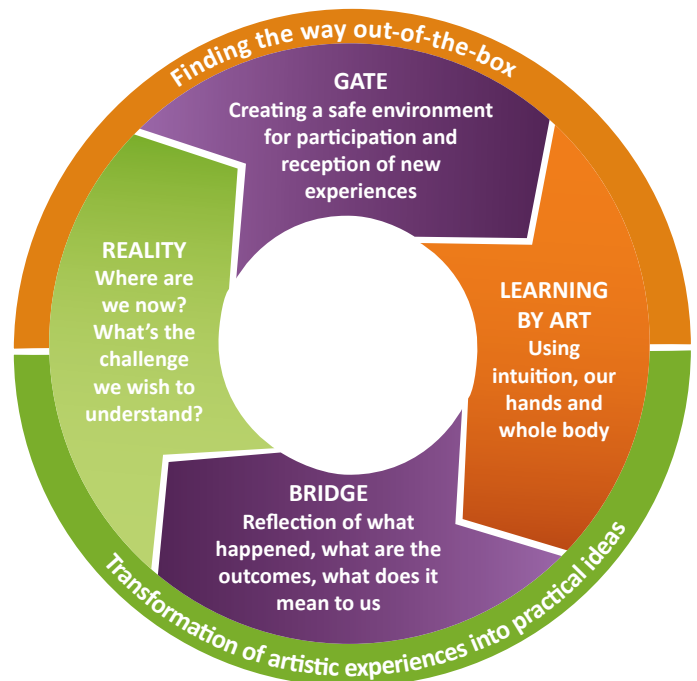

What we do in practice is workshops. In the process you will use your intuition to discover new perspectives and logical interpretations about what the experience meant to the challenge at hand. The end result is a concrete roadmap of what to do next.

The competition

Particularly now, tightened budgets mean that facilitation workshops are difficult to arrange, even though organizations are in need of them. If your challenge is selected by us, we will create a workshop for you free of charge. You put in the time, and we'll contribute the facilitation, and materials. Our goal is to collect references of measurable, qualitative and quantitative results.

Send in your answers by 16:00 April 7, 2010. Grape Arte will evaluate your situation and send a proposal to 10 selected organizations by April 27. At this point, your company may still decide not to take part in the workshop. The five fastest replies to our proposal will receive a workshop for 6-60 people, lasting between 4-10 hours. Workshops will take place during May, June and August.

GRAPE ARTE WORKSHOP PROCESS

Visit our website to find a form to begin the process. We want to know:

- What is the nature of your challenge?
- How do the problems manifest themselves within your company?
- What outcomes do you expect from a workshop?
- How many people will take part and what are their skills and motivations?
- What is your time frame – when does the challenge need to be solved?

So, what are you waiting for? Visit www.grapearte.com to see more about our people, case studies, process, and solutions. But most of all, make sure you come with your big challenges, and bring them on.
